XLIBRIS. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 402 pages. Dimensions: 8.9in. x 6.0in. x 0.9in. Šadr al-Dīn Qūnawī (1207-74 CE) was pivotal to the development of systematic philosophy, and indirectly contributed to the rise of fields of inquiry considered fundamental to our modern scientific outlook. He formed part of a wider critique of traditional Aristotelian epistemology which, Dr. Shaker argues, culminated in two historic epistemological openings. The first stretched from the 10th to 15th centuries under the aegis of Islamic civilization (in a non-confessional sense). The second occurred on the continent of Europe between the 18th and mid-20th centuries. Dr. Shaker compares these two periods in his introduction, identifying key points of convergence and placing Qūnawī in a broad historical context. In his magnum opus, Kitb icjz al bayn, Qūnawī takes as his point of departure the age-old problem of knowledge. Ibn Sīnā-whom Thomas Aquinas and Latin Scholasticism knew as Avicenna-had pithily declared man incapable of truly knowing the realities of things much less God, by theoretical reasoning alone. Taking up the challenge, Qūnawī shows under what conditions one may lay claim to such knowledge. He develops a paradigm that draws on the logical, linguistic and exegetical insights of his predecessors, especially...
